Introduction: Mastering the Fundamentals of ASL with Signing Naturally Unit 2

Learning American Sign Language (ASL) is a rewarding journey, opening doors to communication with a vibrant and diverse community. The "Signing Naturally" curriculum is a widely-used and respected resource for ASL learners, and Unit 2 lays the crucial groundwork for future progress. This article serves as a detailed companion to the "Signing Naturally" Unit 2 workbook, providing thorough explanations and answers to solidify your understanding. We'll delve into each section, ensuring you gain a comprehensive grasp of the fundamental concepts covered.

Chapter 1: Vocabulary & Greetings – Laying the Foundation for Communication

This initial chapter introduces you to the essential vocabulary and greetings that form the backbone of ASL conversations. Mastering these foundational elements is crucial for building confidence and initiating interactions. The exercises in this chapter focus on:

Basic Greetings: Learning to sign "Hello," "Goodbye," "Good Morning," "Good Afternoon," "Good Evening," and their variations, along with appropriate facial expressions and body language.

Introducing Yourself: Practicing signing your name, age, and other personal information clearly and correctly.

Common Vocabulary: Learning essential vocabulary words relating to everyday life, including family members, objects, and actions. This section emphasizes correct handshapes, movements, and facial expressions for each sign. The answer key for this section will provide detailed explanations for any nuances in sign variations or regional differences.

Chapter 2: Basic Sentences & Questions – Constructing Meaningful Conversations

This chapter builds upon the vocabulary learned in Chapter 1, introducing the fundamental rules of ASL sentence structure and question formation. Mastering this section is critical for forming grammatically correct sentences and engaging in meaningful conversations. Key aspects addressed include:

Sentence Structure (Subject-Verb-Object): Understanding the natural order of ASL sentence construction, which often differs from English.

Question Formation (Wh-questions & Yes/No questions): Learning the techniques for forming various types of questions in ASL, including the use of eyebrows and head movements.

Negation: Learning how to incorporate negation into sentences using various techniques. The answer key will highlight the subtle differences in how negation is expressed depending on the context of the sentence.

Chapter 3: Numbers & Time – Expressing Quantitative and Temporal Concepts

This chapter introduces the essential skill of signing numbers and expressing time concepts effectively in ASL. Accuracy in this area is paramount for clear communication in various situations. Key elements include:

Number Formation (1-100): Mastering the correct handshapes and movements for signing numbers from one to one hundred. The answer key will help identify common errors in number formation.

Time Expressions (Time of Day, Days of the Week, Months): Learning how to sign the time of day, days of the week, and months, paying close attention to the nuances of each sign.

Dates and Ages: Combining number signing with time expressions to accurately convey dates and ages.

Chapter 4: Family & Personal Information – Sharing Details About Yourself

This chapter provides practice in signing family relationships and sharing personal information, an essential aspect of social interaction. Accuracy and clarity are critical in this section. Key aspects explored are:

Family Members: Learning to sign various family relationships, including parents, siblings, spouses, and children, and using appropriate classifiers to distinguish between them.

Personal Information (Address, Phone Number, etc.): Practicing signing personal information clearly and correctly.

Describing Your Family: Combining the learned vocabulary to describe your family structure and relationships.

Chapter 5: Describing People & Things – Painting Pictures with Your Hands

This chapter delves into the art of describing people and objects using descriptive ASL techniques, adding depth and detail to your communication. The exercises focus on:

Describing Physical Appearance (Height, Hair Color, etc.): Learning how to accurately describe physical characteristics using appropriate signs and classifiers.

Describing Objects (Size, Shape, Color, etc.): Using descriptive vocabulary and classifiers to portray objects vividly.

Describing Locations: Utilizing directional signs and spatial relationships to convey location accurately.
