We'll dissect successful responses, highlighting key strategies and techniques to help you craft compelling and accurate letters. Let's dive in and equip you with the tools to conquer the OET writing section!

Understanding the OET Writing Sub-test for Nurses

Before we jump into sample letters, let's briefly review the format and expectations of the OET writing sub-test. As a nurse, you'll be writing a professional letter, typically a referral letter or a letter to a patient, colleague, or family member. This letter must demonstrate your ability to communicate clearly, concisely, and professionally while adhering to specific grammatical and lexical requirements. The examiners assess your writing on several key areas:

Professional tone and style: Maintaining a formal and respectful tone is crucial. Avoid colloquialisms or informal language.

Accuracy and clarity: Your letter should be free of grammatical errors and easy to understand. Ambiguity is detrimental to a good score.

Task fulfillment: Make sure you address all aspects of the task prompt effectively and thoroughly.

Lexical resource: Use a wide range of vocabulary appropriate for the context. Avoid repetition and demonstrate your command of medical terminology.

Coherence and cohesion: Ensure a logical flow of ideas with appropriate use of linking words and phrases.

OET Writing Sample 1: Referral Letter (with Answer & Analysis)

Scenario: A patient, Mr. Jones, requires specialist care for a complex wound. Write a referral letter to Dr. Smith, a specialist wound care surgeon.

(Sample Letter – This is a sample, and you should adapt your style and content accordingly)

Dear Dr. Smith,

I am writing to refer Mr. Jones, a 65-year-old male patient under my care, to your specialist clinic. Mr. Jones presents with a chronic, non-healing wound on his left leg, diagnosed as a venous leg ulcer. Despite diligent wound care management, including compression therapy and topical treatments, the ulcer shows minimal improvement. His medical history includes type 2 diabetes mellitus and peripheral vascular disease, which may be contributing factors to the wound's slow healing.

His current medication includes Metformin 1000mg BD and Aspirin 75mg OD. He is also experiencing significant pain and mobility limitations due to the ulcer. I believe he would benefit greatly from your expertise in advanced wound care techniques and surgical intervention, if necessary.

Please find attached Mr. Jones' medical history and recent wound assessment reports. I would appreciate it if you could schedule an appointment for him at your earliest convenience. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you require any further information.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
Registered Nurse

Answer Analysis: This letter successfully addresses all aspects of the task. It includes relevant medical details, maintains a professional tone, and clearly outlines the reasons for referral. The use of precise medical terminology demonstrates a strong lexical resource.

OET Writing Sample 2: Letter to a Patient (with Answer & Analysis)

Scenario: Write a letter to Mrs. Brown, a patient recently discharged after a hip replacement surgery, providing post-operative care instructions.

(Sample Letter – This is a sample, and you should adapt your style and content accordingly)

Dear Mrs. Brown,

I hope this letter finds you recovering well following your recent hip replacement surgery. This letter outlines essential post-operative care instructions to ensure a smooth recovery.

It is crucial to follow your physiotherapy exercises diligently as prescribed. Regularly elevate your leg to minimize swelling. Avoid placing excessive weight on your operated leg for the next six weeks. Please adhere to your prescribed medication schedule. Monitor for any signs of infection, such as increased pain, swelling, redness, or discharge. If you experience any of these symptoms, please contact me immediately. Your next follow-up appointment is scheduled for [Date and Time].

Remember, maintaining a healthy diet and getting adequate rest are crucial for recovery. Please do not hesitate to contact me or my colleagues if you have any concerns or questions.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
Registered Nurse

Answer Analysis: This sample effectively communicates post-operative care instructions in a clear, concise, and compassionate manner. The letter maintains a professional yet reassuring tone, suitable for patient communication. Key instructions are highlighted for easy understanding.
